This event is optional--the program can be taken 100% online. After you register for the Mentorship Circle, you will receive further information about the event schedule, lodging and transportation options.

The venue is located 10-15 minutes from the airport to make your trip easy. Elevate Your Gifts will be two full days on Friday January 24 and Saturday January 25 and end by 2 pm on Sunday January 26 so you can travel home on Sunday.

This event is truly about you. You will actively participate throughout the event in partner & group sharing and the life- changing interactive exercises.

Eve's presence & teaching style is uniquely transformational and honors the sacred nature of each participant. The profound processes you'll do at this event, including visualization, movement, deep breathing exercises and more will enliven & strengthen your mind, body & spirit. Eve and the group will hold the space for you to embrace your personal power, vision and radiance.

You will co-create with many caring, like-minded souls allowing you to grow and safely be your authentic self. Join us, you will be forever grateful that you did!

Throughout Elevate Your Gifts, you will be supported and motivated to manifest your dreams, expand your mindset and create success.

Eve will compassionately guide you to embody your purpose with ease & joy.

Being at this live event will allow you to develop new insights and connect deeply with your authentic self.

"Helped Increase My Confidence"

The immersion felt so deep and the connections I've formed, well, feel immense. I know I am supported. I found a direction that was in the making, but having it mirrored back to me with so many beautiful souls, how could I not? I'm looking forward to see how it manifests in my life over the next little bit. I'm taking the beauty of this natural sisterhood home to propel and support me on my coaching journey.

"A wonderful experience"

I loved connecting with each and every individual, as well as with the collective group energy and love. It has been a deep, transformative experience at a person and spiritual level. I'm hoping to attend next year as a transformative life coach, with a better personal story to share.

"Inspired & Empowered"

As a "first-world" healer of Color, in the past I have often found my own healing and empowerment processes limited, or even painfully derailed, by many (well-intended) teachers and healers who had never grieved and healed (or even significantly dealt with) their own racial legacies...In contrast, Eve brings a depth of warmth, compassion, emotional sobriety, and globally and cross-culturally informed wisdom, that is, in my experience, quite, quite rare, and radically life-affirming.

"I traveled from Europe...and I'm so glad I did!"

I traveled from Europe to for Eve's event - and I'm so glad I did! It was amazing to be in a circle of such wonderful, uplifting women and creators and to be led by the amazing, heart-guided Eve, who shows how powerful leadership can be graceful, authentic, gentle and joyful! I experienced incredible support and huge joy in sharing space and energy with this group, and loved the various ways we were able to meet ourselves and each other on a deep level. I highly recommend jumping into this great opportunity to connect in person with an inspiring, light-filled community and with the radiant and truly empowering Eve. This is a place where you'll be encouraged to let your light shine and see it reflected in radiance all around you! A treasure!

"I found out how to love myself again"

I would recommend this for any woman who is wanting to work on themselves. For anyone who is searching for more out of their life, or in their life. Eve's event was so healing for me. Things that I had been keeping locked up inside were cracked wide open. Questions that I had been asking myself for so long were finally answered in huge "aha" moments. I loved the feeling of family and community that was developed in such a short time, and also being surrounded by so many like-minded women. I felt unsure and not at all confident in myself before, but after being here, I now feel like a strong, confident and powerful woman who could do anything! I found out how to love myself again.

“I feel free, restored”

I feel so overwhelmed with Love! The only way to find happiness in the moment is to be your authentic self. Feeling loved is what enables you to let yourself shine. I found it here. I was able to find myself under all of the years of suppressing her. I feel free, liberated, restored. The Power of Love! The greatest force in the universe!

“I came home a forever changed woman”

I am at least 20 times more sure that I can make a positive difference in people's lives as a coach than I felt before going to Eve's Event. All of the very powerful processes we did together went deep and shifted everyone in one way or another. The friends and allies I made will be life-long. Support is a very big piece of the puzzle for me in bringing my work forward. And, last but absolutely not least, I experienced Eve Agee in person. Eve, you are the real deal! Your embodied presence blows me away and is such a great model for me going forward. Your love for your work is truly beautiful to witness and your love for all of us is undeniable. Everyone should try to attend any event with Eve in the future! I guarantee you will be forever changed, too! Thank you, Eve, from the bottom of my heart!
